What happened ?

One family of 7 persons (3 minors, one of them had poliomyelitis) walked through the jungle from Adasevci. When they were arrested by the Croatian police they were told that they could apply for asylum. At the police station the fingerprints of the interviewee were taken.

Then they were transferred by van to Batrovci. The police officers stopped the van for 30 minutes during which they asked the man who gave his fingerprint to go out, closed the doors of the van and took his mobile : they deleted his data and broke it. Then he was beaten and told to take his family in a safe place and to come back tomorrow to ask again for asylum.
