ORIGINAL REPORT

3 men, Afghanistan, Year of birth: 1997, 1996 and 1990

The men travelled from Sid Serbia across Croatia to Slovenia by walking and by car. They got caught by 5 Slovenian border police about a kilometer from the Croatian-Slovenian border (45.864582,15.591242) on 13th October about at 4 am. The police asked their identity details and examined them, checked (GPS on) and broke the screens of their two mobile phones. The men expressed the intention to seek for asylum without proper response from the police, and they were deported to Croatia. The Slovenian police called for 5 Croatian police to catch the men and transport them with big closed police car to Croatian side, where the Croatian police put them in detention to the building for scanning the border near Samobor Croatia (45.811440,15.644820). The men again expressed the intention to seek for asylum. About 8 am the police called to Zagreb to the director of "foreign camp" and asked for advice, but he answered that the camp is full and the asylum procedures won't be continued. The police asked for their identity details, but the men didn't receive any documents of their detention and asylum procedure. Men spent a few hours in the detention, after which two Croatian police transported them with big closed police car to Croatian-Serbian border near Tovarnik train rails (45.150466,19.163716), where they were the next night on 14th about at 1 am. Once more the men expressed the intention to seek for asylum, and they were examined and identity details asked, but the same police deported them to Serbian side. After that men walked back to Sid Serbia.
