ORIGINAL REPORT

S. 20 y.o, Afghanistan

He had been deported from Hungary on the 21st of September. The police caught him among a group of 6 persons, approximately 20 kilometers after the border, on an highway. They were 3 « police army »/military, 4 police men on the road and 3 police women. The women officers asked them where they were going, they answered Austria. Their phones were taken. They waited 1 hour on the highway while their mobiles were checked, as well as their belongings (bags, sleeping bags...). A car arrived, and they asked for their belongings back (bags, powerbank), but nothing was given back to them. They got kicked one by one. The police ordered them to « go to subotica, don't come back ! ». The officers also took pictures of them, asked for their names and made a paper out of it.
